

ZAGAT

March 14, 2012

St. Patrick's Day Drink Guide: 11 Spots to Get Sloshed

By Samantha Ullrich

This weekend, the entire New York City population becomes Irish, so what better way to celebrate than with traditional fare, Irish whiskey and green beer? Lots and lots of beer that is. Good ol' St. Patrick hits town on Saturday, and whether you are headed in to watch the parade or just to drink it up, here are some suggestions to get you properly tipsy. Note: as the day goes on and your Irish eyes go bleary, please remember - leprachauns don't exist, so don't go chasing after any pots of gold.

NYC Pub Crawl: For those wanting to experience NYC pubs the right way, join in on this Luck of the Irish Pub Crawl and work your way through over a dozen bars, all of which will be sporting generous drink specials for crawlers. Can't wait until Saturday to start celebrating? This crawl is starting Friday and last the whole weekend ($40 per person for a 3-day all access pass; register online here).

Village Pourhouse: Start your morning at this downtown location with Kegs and Eggs, a green breakfast of champions. You know how your day is going to go after this one - just sayin' (64 Third Ave.; 212-979-2337).